

1. The Buyer, the Seller and the Bank conclude trilateral contract of escrow account on the basis of the Buyer's and the Seller's application: the Bank opens the escrow account
2. The Buyer deposits the money to the escrow account
3. The Buyer and the Seller conclude a contract for purchase and sale / shipping goods / providing services / performing works
4. The Seller presents to the Bank all required documents specified by the contract of escrow account as an assurance of performing contractual obligations
5. In the case of completeness and precision of the documents presented by the Seller, the Bank pays in cash / transfers the money to the Seller
6. The Bank transfers the documents received by the Seller to the Buyer